CRESCENT BEACH SAGA

An adventure which might have ended disastrously, but which fortunately ended very happily, began on Saturday afternoon about 3 P.M. when two young adventurers, Bryan Hickey 10 and Billy Maloney 12 decided it would be a good idea to go blueberrying in the woods at Crescent Beach. Blueberries, however, were scarce, and they found themselves further and further into the woods, and then suddenly realized that they had lost their way. Losing their way, however, did not mean that they had lost their heads, so they put down their colored cans as markers and headed for the sounds of the traffic on Route 6. They looked for Indian Rock which would give them a bearing but it could not be found. By this time it was about 6:30 and they were really scared.

Their parents, being parents, began to get alarmed at their long absence and notified the men of the beach and the Mattapoisett Police Department, who began systematically to search the woods.

However, the two boys finally managed to cut their way to Route 6 and came out near the Hillside Motel. Dr. Flynn, who surmised that this would happen, drove up in his car and met the boys walking back about 9 P.M.

Among the searchers were Messrs. Chase, Cushing, Dempsey, Mitchell, Egan & Egan, Cunney and Hoye & Hoye.

Two of the searchers, Mr. Cunney and Mr. Mitchell were deep in the woods at the time the boys were found and they too had to be brought back to civilization.

In an interview with the writer, Brian and Billy particularly asked that their thanks, and that of their parents, be conveyed to all who took part in the search, including the Mattapoisett Police Department.

All's well that ends well.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION AT CRESCENT BEACH

A surprise birthday party was celebrated on Sunday evening to Miss Sylvia Charman on the occasion of her 14th birthday. Miss Charman is visiting from England her uncle and aunt at Crescent Beach.

She was quite overwhelmed as such surprise parties are not given in her country. Miss Charman was the recipient of many gifts and her aunt made a huge birthday cake with the required number of candles.

Her wish, as believed, was that she might return to America some day and follow the profession of veterinarian as she is quite an animal lover - including snakes.

Besides the Charmans, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Boyden and Jean, her aunt, Mrs. Dorothy Warrington and Debbie Lester were in attendance.

Also tendering congratulations were Barbara and Elaine Wishart, cousins from Phoenix, Arizona.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Voelker and Donald and Nancy, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond

MATTAPOISETT MARSHES PRODUCE MAJOR CROP

Growing vegetables or raising cattle on a salt marsh sounds like a tall tale spun by a mariner just back from strange lands, but in effect that is exactly what happens twelve months a year here in Mattapoisett. Recent studies made here indicate that such tidal marshes as Pine Island Pond are veritable food factories, producing huge quantities of the basic foods on which our shellfish and many other animals flourish. Destroy these marshes by filling, dredging or pollution and we lose our clams, oysters and scallops as well as such fish as flounder, men-

The protection of these marshes, besides perpetuating our commercial and recreational fishing, also serves the purpose of establishing a "green belt" area in a rapidly growing seaside town at the place where it is most appreciated - the shore front - and this natural beauty is practically maintainence free!

The Mattapoisett Conservation Commission has been studying various proposals for the protection of this vital resource. Owners of marsh and other undeveloped land are reminded that the Conservation Commission is permitted to accept gifts of land and to maintian them for conservation purposes. Such gifts are tax deductible.

HOME STRETCH FOR LITTLE LEAGUE

Little League results for Tuesday were Cubs 3 Greens 2, Blues 7 Rochester 6 and Eagles 7 Reds 4. For the Cubs, Chris Lopes relieved Hayward in the first inning and pitched very well to gain the victory. Seabury Stanton, John Silva and Chris Lopes led the hitters with Lopes driving in the winning runs with a key triple. The Blues at Rochester game saw the Blues going into the final inning with a 7 to 1 lead behind the good pitching of Steve Cadieux until Rochester rerupted for five runs to almost snatch the victory. Victory Meservey drove in three runs, with a double, in this inning.

The Ponies were beaten by Seven-Up 7 to 0 and topped Connor's Tavern 6 to 4. Jim Macomber pitched well for the win over Connors. They have two make-up games to play to finish their season. The Pony coach, Steve Almeida, has done a good job but started the year with only three veterans returning. Next
